ONCE MORE

- Let us impress upon
- School graduates
- The danger of delay in the selection of your graduation outfit.
- The time for using that outfit is dangerously near.
- The saying that "delay is dangerous" is as true as it is old.
- Our advice (some time since) to select this indispensable outfit early has been liberally taken.
- So far all have been treated to the cream of the season.
- There is more cream left, but it is growing less every day.
- Never forget this fact—
- School graduates know "what's what," and they don't roll up their sleeves, in order to reach down through the cream after skimmed milk, to leave the cream for the other fellow.

Obituary.

Capt. Thomas F. Winthrop died from the effects of an operation at the hospital in San Antonio, Texas, June 8, at the age of 63 years, 1 month.

The deceased was born in Ballardvale, May 1, 1842. At the age of 19 years he joined Company A of the 19th Mass. volunteer infantry. He earned by gallant service a brilliant war record and was steadily promoted until, at the close of our civil war, he was mustered out as captain.

Later he followed the railway business, being station agent for a number of years at Royce's point, N. Y. He next went to St. Louis, Mo. At the time of his death he was employed on a railroad in San Antonio, Texas. Mr. Winthrop composed a number of poems, the best known of which were "Daisy Dean" and "Our Fallen Brave." The latter poem was republished several years ago in the "Andover Townsman." He was known here and will doubtless be remembered by all the older residents of our village. Capt. Winthrop was twice married and leaves five children. The funeral and interment was held in San Antonio, Texas.

The address by Rev. A. H. Fuller was full of practical thoughts and suggestions which were brought home to the minds of his hearers in a very forcible manner by his many pointed illustrations and anecdotes.

One of the most pleasing features of the evening was the presentation of a beautiful silk umbrella to the retiring president Miss Florence M. Prevost, by Miss Mary E. Scott in the name of the teachers and members of the Bradlee Mother's club. Considerable merriment was occasioned by the distribution of several cards representing a number of Mother Goose's melodies.

Ice cream and cake were served by Caterer Frank Higgins. The following efficient committee of arrangements served: Miss Florence I. Abbott, Miss Florence M. Prevost, Miss Mary E. Scott, Mrs. Ralph Bruce and Mrs. James Scott.

BASEBALL

PENNSYLVANIA WINS IN A CLOSE CONTEST.

Phillips Andover and the university of Pennsylvania met for the first time Friday The Quaker team winning, 3 to 1, in a closely fought game.

Brady, who was in the box for the visitors, was rather wild, but Andover could not hit him effectively, and with excellent scoring again and again when runs seemed certain.

Andover's only run was forced in, Williams getting a life on Mumford's error, being sent around to third on bases on balls and being forced in when Brady hit Schildmiller.

Penn. also lost many chances to score, but got two men around in the fifth on hits and good base-running, and one in the ninth on fielding errors.

Andover tried all three of her pitchers to give them practice for the Exeter game.

Ziegler made a sensational catch in left field and Payette and Taylor both made difficult running catches.

The Andover team showed the effect of the hard season and several members of the nine had the appearance of being overtrained. The score:

MRS. GILFOYLE OBJECTED TO ACCOUNT FILED BY SON.

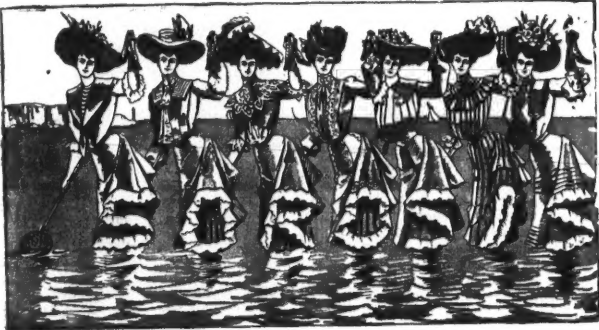

At a session of the probate court in this city Monday Judge Flint of Norfolk county presiding, a hearing was held in regard to the account filed by Joseph R. Gilfoyle, executor of the estate of Patrick H. Gilfoyle.

According to the will of Mr. Gilfoyle all his property valued at about $4000 was left to his wife Annie, to revert to his sons John and Joseph and daughter Elizabeth upon her death, other children being cut off. The son, Joseph was made executor. Mrs. Gilfoyle objects to the account made by her son, claiming that bills he has charged against the estate should not be charged because she herself gave the money to pay them, and that Joseph had agreed to pay for others which he has charged against the estate.

HAVING bought the store and stock lately owned by Edward Pierce at North Andover, we shall keep a full assortment of all kinds of grain for stock and fowls; also Hay, Straw, Farming Tools and Team Harnesses.

KEEPING TAB ON THE WORLD

Roosevelt Asks Czar and Mikado to Talk Up Peace. Norway Cuts Loose From Scandinavian Union—German Crown Prince Weds. Morton to Clean House For the Equitable—Investigating Cotton Report Charges—A Pennsylvania Central Speed War—Alton's Wireless Service.

POLITICAL

The President as Peacemaker.

"Why not get together and arrange peace terms for yourselves?" Such in substance is the identical note sent to the czar of Russia and the mikado of Japan by the president of the United States after a week of diplomatic inquiries. Russia had indicated her willingness to hear Japan's terms, but Japan first desired assurances of dealing with a responsible element of the disturbed Russian realm.

Impaching Cotton Report.

Secretary Richard Cheatham of the Southern Cotton Growers' association has called President Roosevelt's attention to what he regards as gross irregularities in the preparation and publication of the government cotton report issued June 2. For several months the statistics gathered by the association have varied noticeably from those issued by the department. It is asserted that employees of the department of agriculture make frequent visits to New York and that they have improper relations with cotton brokers, with the object of affecting the market. It is reported that a month in advance of the last report plans were made to secure a bearish report. The difference between the last report of the government and that of the association was about 7 per cent. An investigation was ordered, pending which Associate Statistician Edwin H. Holmes was suspended.

Socialists Won't Fuse.

The Social Democratic party of New York city has declined the invitation of the Citizens' Union to fuse in the coming municipal campaign on a nonpartisan basis, as this would be contrary to the Socialist aims. The Socialists declare the Citizens' Union offers little hope to the working classes.

Former Ambassador Choate Back.

Joseph H. Choate, recently ambassador to the court of St. James, arrived at New York with his family on the Caronia, June 7, and went at once to his country home at Woodstock, in the Berkshires. He denied various rumors about his prospective activities including those connecting him with the management of the Equitable and the succession to Mr. Hay as secretary of state.

Socialists Call College Men.

A call signed by such prominent Socialists as J. G. Phelps Stokes, Thomas W. Higgins, Charlotte Perkins Gilman, O. L. Triggs, C. S. Darrow, B. O. Flower, Leonard D. Abbott, Jack London and Upton Sinclair has just been issued to college men and women urging them to form a body for the purpose of studying socialism. In it these leaders say that the recent remarkable increase in the Socialist vote in America indicates that socialism is not a thing to be neglected. They propose to organize an association to be known as the Intercollegiate society to promote interest in socialism among college graduates and undergraduates.

Demolishing Corrupt Machine.

Mayor Weaver has served notice on Philadelphia's city employees that they may and should refuse to pay further political assessments to any partisan organization, and thus has struck another vital blow at the power of the ring. The city has also seen a practical illustration of the changed administration in the dismissal of several policemen and the ordering of many others to trial. In the hope of retrieving something of the public confidence the managers of the smashed machine have prevailed upon Governor Pennypacker to appoint Judge John Stewart, an independent, to the state supreme court. The mayor has named a committee of prominent citizens to act as his advisers without pay.

COMMERCIAL

Morton Head of Equitable.

A new broom at last has been secured for the much besmirched insurance colossus. It has been placed in the hands of Paul Morton, the retiring secretary of the navy, who was chosen June 9 as chairman of the board of directors with supreme authority and without obligations to any clique or faction. At the same time by prearrangement President Alexander, First Vice President Hyde and the other chief officers tendered their resignations, while Hyde sold his inherited controlling stock interest to a group of policy holders headed by Thomas F. Ryan, vice president of the Morton Trust company, to be placed in the hands of trustees with power to elect the twenty-eight directors on the original Hyde plan of mutualization. Prior to this action many prominent directors had resigned and the executive committee had been reorganized on a reform basis.

Most Costly Piece of Land.

A new record price for real estate was agreed on last week when a lot about 30 by 39 feet square on the corner of Broadway and Wall street, New York city, was sold by the Stillman estate to Lorenzo E. Anderson, first vice president of the Mercantile Trust company of St. Louis, for $700,000. This is about $800 a square foot. The sale was made subject to the lease of the building on the premises to the United Cigar Stores company, which does not expire until May 1, 1908. The rental and taxes of this property amount to $33,000 a year. It is expected that when the lease expires a skyscraper will be erected at that point. The first recorded transfer of this property, nearly 200 years ago, shows that the price was about $500. The present four story building was erected in 1830.

New York Life to Distribute.

Heeding the demands of public opinion and the report of the Frick committee respecting the abuses in the management of the Equitable Life Assurance society, the New York Life Insurance company began on June 6 making a radical change in the conduct of its business. Orders were issued to offer a policy based on the annual distribution of surplus instead of the deferred dividend policy which has been so popular for many years. For several months past the business of this and other life insurance companies has had a marked falling off owing to the Equitable exposures. The New York Life has also been put more upon a mutual basis by preventing any officer, employee or agent from casting a proxy vote for a policy holder.

Annual Report of the P. R. R.

At the annual meeting of the Pennsylvania railroad stockholders at Pittsburgh the report was submitted covering the operations of 14,000 miles of lines. It shows gross earnings of $36,390,582 and net earnings of $10,347,220, an increase of $860,998 as compared with 1903. The tonnage has increased 5.8 per cent and passenger traffic 4 per cent. The old board of directors was re-elected.

Copper Trust's First Report.

For the first time since its formation in 1899 the Amalgamated Copper company, against which Mr. Lawson of Boston has been tilting so vigorously, made public an annual report on June 5 at the meeting of its shareholders in Jersey City. This report indicates a more satisfactory status of the company's affairs than at any time since 1901. A son of H. H. Rogers of the Standard Oil company was elected to the directorate. The report also recapitulates the difficulties of the management soon after the company was formed. It says that 12,000 men are employed in Montana and receive $14,000,000 in wages. This report is regarded as Mr. Rogers' answer to the attacks of Mr. Lawson.

Wabash to Get the Business.

Chicago hears that the Wabash railroad has come to an understanding with the steel trust officers by virtue of which one-quarter of the Pittsburgh steel tonnage will go to that system. This report is confirmed by Vice President Delano of the Wabash. To this end the Union railway, connecting all the steel trust companies, will be connected with the belt line recently purchased by the Goulds.

FOREIGN

Delcasse's Resignation.

The French foreign minister, whose Moroccan policy has been opposed by Emperor William of Germany, tendered his resignation to Premier Rouvier on June 6. This was a matter of great satisfaction in Berlin, and it was freely predicted that Germany would be considered in any future arrangement in Morocco.

The text of Morocco's reply to the French government declares that no civil or military reform will be accepted by that country unless previously discussed by an international conference at Tangier.

Zemstvos Defy Authority.

Despite the prohibition of the Russian government, the national congress of Russian zemstvos met secretly at Moscow last week, 300 members being present. They were unanimous in demanding that a representative assembly be convoked. The order of prohibition, which only came at the last moment, aroused much indignation. On the same day the union of Russian journalists chartered a steamer and cruised in the Neva for six hours so as to hold a meeting without police interference. The journalists hailed a constituent assembly and a Russian revolution.

Trepoff a Dictator.

Great popular feeling has been created at St. Petersburg by the announced re-establishment of the Third section of police, with General Trepoff at its head as virtual director over the lives and liberties of the Russian people. Trepoff, as assistant secretary of the interior, became in reality the head of that department. Minister Bouligne promptly resigned. His resignation was not accepted, however.

From all over Russia come reports of a revival of the strike situation.

Edward Entertains Alfonso.

Since June 5 King Alfonso of Spain has been the guest of King Edward of England. The ceremonies of welcome were of the most elaborate description, although the effect of the spectacle was marred by the heavy rain. The young king wore the uniform of a British general. King Edward wore the uniform of a Spanish admiral. Extraordinary precautions were taken to guard the royal visitor from any possible injury during his stay in England.

Speaker Gully Retires.

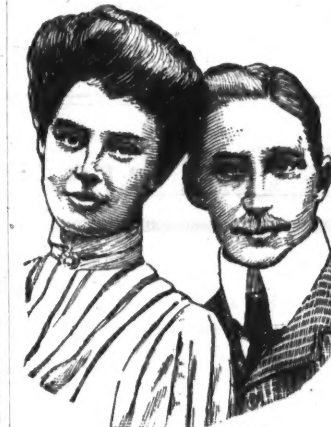

William C. Gully, who for ten years has been speaker of the British house of commons, tendered his resignation June 6 on the ground of ill health. Premier Balfour moved the request that Mr. Gully be raised to the peerage. Gully is succeeded by James William Lowther, a Conservative.

Ambassador Reid Received.

Whitelaw Reid, the new ambassador to England, had his first audience with the king at Buckingham June 5. The ambassador was taken thither in one of the royal carriages, a mark of distinction.

German Royal Wedding.

Because it was known to be a love match all Germany thought of little else last week but the splendid wedding of Crown Prince Frederick William and the Grand Duchess Cecilia of Mecklenburg-Schwerin, which took place on June 6 in the palace chapel under the auspices of the Lutheran church. More than sixty members of royal families were present from German and foreign states, and the ceremony was also attended by the members of the foreign embassies and many high officials of the army and navy. First the civil ceremony was performed in the Hall of Electors at the palace. Many ancient costumes marked the ceremonies. The German empress assisted the bride in dressing and in putting up her hair. An ancient Prussian crown was then brought to the door of the chamber by an officer of the guard and a procession was formed to go to the chapel. After the reception and supper all joined in the torchlight dance. Then the newly wedded couple went away in their private car to a hunting lodge in a royal Prussian forest. Their honeymoon will be spent in Italy.

President Castro's Message.

President Castro's message to the Venezuelan congress deals largely with the prosperity of the country in his administration. His proclamation of amnesty applies to all citizens and exiles and sets free prisoners of war from colonels down. He refers to the situation with the United States as "a slight difference" and adds that the request of Mr. Bowen for a new arbitration of the asphalt trust dispute threatened the independence of the country.

Norway Quits Sweden.

The long expected break between Norway and Sweden came on June 7 when the Norwegian storting at Christiania unanimously declared the union between the two countries dissolved and that the king of Sweden was no longer the king of Norway. The state council was authorized to exercise full power as the government of Norway, and an address to King Oscar was adopted declaring that no ill feeling was entertained toward him personally or toward the Swedish nation. King Oscar was asked to co-operate in selecting a prince of his own house, that of Bernadotte, to become the king of Norway. The people of both countries remained calm. King Oscar immediately sent word protesting against the action of the storting. The council took steps to secure the allegiance of the army, to alter the prayer books of the Norwegian church and to cut the emblems of union from the flag, a new flag being substituted everywhere. Sweden has firmly stood by King Oscar. King Oscar has summoned the riksdag of Sweden in extra session June 30 to consider the action of Norway.

Russian Ships Interned.

Rear Admiral Enquist, in command of the Russian protected cruisers Aurora, Oleg and Jemchug, which fled during the battle of the Sea of Japan and took refuge in the port of Manila, received orders from St. Petersburg on June 8 to abide by the decision of the American authorities, which was to leave the port within twenty-four hours from the time of notice or have his ships interned. Governor Wright, acting under the instruction of President Roosevelt, had taken the ground that since the ships were injured in battle they were not entitled to time for repairs beyond the twenty-four hour limit. The Russian officers and men were notified that they would be paroled and that their ships would be rendered ineffective pending the continuance of the war.

FLAG DAY OBSERVED THROUGHOUT THE LAND.

Wednesday marked the 128th anniversary of the birth of the American flag and has been designated as Flag day. In many places patriotic observances are being held, in the schools and by patriotic organizations. The local tent, Daughters of Veterans, and the Woman's relief corps will hold an entertainment tonight in observance of the day. A short history of the flag is of interest at this time.

It is now known that congress, assembled in Philadelphia June 4, 1777, "Resolved, That the flag of the United States be 13 stripes, alternate red and white, and that the Union be 13 stars, white on a blue field, representing a new constellation. This resolution marked the birth of the national banner that has never been lowered in defeat to a foreign foe. In the original design by Washington the stars were six-pointed, as on the face of all American coins, but the Philadelphia seamstress, Betsy Ross, altered the star to five points, and five-pointed the star has remained.

The design of the flag was suggested by the flag displayed by Washington at Cambridge, Jan. 2, 1776, which consisted of 13 stripes, over red and white, with a cross of St. Andrew in place of the stars, which were afterward adopted.

It was at Fort Schuyler that "Old Glory" received its baptism of blood, waving over the besieged Americans. Shortly afterward it waved over the victorious American army, receiving the surrender of the British under Sir John Burgoyne, at Saratoga.

After the War of Independence, when Vermont and Kentucky applied for admission as states, a controversy arose over the flag. It was settled by leaving the stripes unaltered, but adding one star for each of the new states and since a star has been added for every state admitted to the Union.

Americans are inclined to believe that the Stars and Stripes is the youngest banner representing a great nation, but this belief is erroneous, as the tri-color of France originated in 1774 and the Union Jack of Great Britain, in its present distinctive form, dates only from the union of 1801. The Spanish flag took its present design in 1785, and the banners of Germany and Italy are but of yesterday, dating from the elevation of the present dynasties to the thrones of those countries.

Several flags were in use in this country before the adoption of the present banner. No flag was carried by the men who marched to North bridge on February 26, 1775, or the farmers who assembled at Lexington on April 19, 1775.

Several flags were displayed at Bunker Hill. One was of bright red and bore the taunting inscription, "Come, if You Dare." Another was of blue flannel, with a white canton, quartered by a St. Andrew cross, and had a small pine tree in the upper left-hand corner.

In 1754 Benjamin Franklin urged the colonies to unite and illustrated his point with a wood cut of a rattlesnake, divided into 13 parts, under which were the words "Unite or Die." Throughout the colonies the cry was echoed and flags bearing a rattlesnake in various positions were borne at Bunker Hill.

An elegant design of yellow bunting was presented to congress for adoption. This flag showed a snake stretched lazily across its field and the inscription was "Don't tread on me." Another flag combined the snake and pine tree, the snake curled around the tree. Above the tree were the words "An appeal to heaven." John Paul Jones carried the pine tree and snake design on the Alfred in the fight with the Bonhomme Richard. The present flag of South Carolina, deep blue with white crescent, was with Lee and Marion in the desperate raids on the British and in the south in Revolutionary days.

The flag adopted by the colonial congress, after a recommendation by Washington, Francis Pickens, and Morris, is the national emblem of millions of people on the American continent, and floats proudly in Porto Rico, the Sandwich islands and the Philippines.

HUGE TURTLE CAUGHT AT HAGGETT'S POND.

LOWELL, June 13.—Says the Lowell Mail: "Good-natured Joseph Flynn, the Gorham street grocer, and Mr. Harry Gonzales, the Gorham street cutlery dealer, whose intricate plying of the wondrous and intricate made famous by that unrivaled sportsman, Isaac Walton, went a-fishing Monday at Haggett's pond, and though they were not as successful as usual in luring the finny tribe from their haunts, they came home with about the biggest specimen of the turtle family seen hereabouts since Police Officer J. M. Whitworth captured one of the hard-shelled critters a few years ago, under the Boston & Maine tracks near the Lowell station.

Thirty-two pounds, headless is what these two sportsmen claim the turtle weighs, and who would doubt their veracity? If you do, go up to Mr. Gonzales' store, and you will be welcome to weigh the snapper. He was captured after a terrific encounter, in which Mr. Flynn's new boots were unmercifully battered, and to preclude any possibility of anyone being bitten the animal's huge head was severed from his body.

In cleaning the turtle a brass plate was found on its back with the inscription "Spofford, Andover, Mass., 1857," which would indicate that the animal was at least 48 years old. The condition of its claws would bear this fact out too, as they are badly worn. There are other indications of age. The turtle will remain on exhibition for several days."

We, the undersigned, do hereby agree to refund the money on a 50 cent bottle of Greene's Warranted Syrup of Tar if it fails to cure your cough or cold. We also guarantee a 25 cent bottle to prove satisfactory or money refunded.

Celebrating the Fourth.

It is a good thing for the town and for those who are getting particularly interested, to have the interest awakened in a local celebration of the 4th of July, and the way in which the committees are taking hold of the work indicates that a creditable program is to be carried out.

There is but one warning that needs to be urged and that is the imperative need of cutting the garment according to the cloth. There is a great temptation to add features to the preliminary program of any event. There is likewise a great tendency to over-estimate the income that may come in. For that reason we trust that conservatism will rule in the preliminary plans.

And this does not necessarily mean that a very excellent program cannot be arranged, with the money that may be reasonably expected. The plan for securing a goodly sum with but a trifling expense to any one person is for the sale of a souvenir badge at twenty-five cents each. Two thousand such badges ought to be sold, and it is certainly very little to expect that more than the first thousand surely will be sold. For three hundred dollars there can be a lot of fun afforded to many citizens. Races of all kinds for the youth with games, music, and fireworks may be combined to give a day that will show that the nation's great holiday is not yet a complete dead letter in Andover.

The move is a good one, and those who have so generously assumed the large amount of work necessary to make it a success deserve the loyal and hearty interest of every citizen. By at least so much as the purchase of a souvenir let everyone make a contribution to the coming celebration.

Helping the Town.

The simple little announcement in another column that the last lot on the Whittier estate has been sold, is of more than ordinary significance to citizens who will stop to fully consider what has been accomplished in the opening up of this land.

When the land was purchased by real estate agent Rogers and his associates it was assessed for $90,000. There was one house upon it, and it had stood for many years in its undeveloped state. Today there are ten houses occupied and two others are sure to be built within the next year, and the valuation upon all will reach at least $35,000. All of this has come about within five years and in its coming has taken away from no other part of the town's growth. The houses have been built because there was a demand for them by people who wanted either new or better homes. The land has been sold at reasonable prices, and excellent houses have been built upon most of the lots.

We believe that what has been done there, can be repeated in some other sections of the town; not in a boom fashion and not too much at a time, but in a conservative way. At the present rate of building it will be a long while before the town is over-loaded with desirable moderate cost residences, and no better help can come to the town than for those who own undeveloped land near the centre, to duplicate the good work done in improving the Whittier estate.

Editorial Cinders.

It will be all "graduation" next week. The "sweet girl" and the "impressive boy" will be out in force. It's too bad there must be quite so much fold-over to the sweet girl's end of it in new gowns and pretty odds and ends, but that seems to be a most enjoyable part of it for them, so perhaps those of us on the outside have no right to kick. But what a lot would be gained if all would follow the lead of several of the schools where all graduating expenses including gowns have been confined to so small an amount that one simple white dress! However, so long as such a limit is not on in Andover we will all have to take all the pleasure possible next week not only in the essays and music and other accomplishments, but in the pretty gowns.

Hurrah for Andover! It was a clean cut victory for skill and straight-out pure amateurism. A victory for a team developed in subordination to the demands of legitimate school work and the friends of all that is best in school and college life may well rejoice in it. Principal Stearns and his associates may well take pride in every success that comes through such training and in accordance with such high standards of amateurism and scholarship as the success of the 1905 baseball team has come from.

The friends of Abbot are still doing nice things for her. The beautiful hall given by Mr. Geo. G. Davis has now received still further attention from that gentleman in the shape of seats of the most approved style. We are sometimes wont to think that possession of wealth is the surest way to secure good things but for a school there is certainly a nicer way through loyal friends who have the money.

Children's Sunday Observed.

Children's Sunday was observed in the South, Free and Baptist churches last Sunday when appropriate programs were carried out at the morning session in the two former churches and a children's concert was held at the latter church in the evening.

The pastors preached appropriate sermons to the children and several other features made the services very interesting.

South Church

At the south church, Rev. F. R. Shipman preached on "The Boy Who Did Something," and his thoughts were directed to the younger portion of the congregation.

The exercises of the graduating class were well executed and reflect much credit on their teachers.

The following program was carried out at the South church Sunday in observance of Children's day:

Prayer.
Invocation and the Lord's Prayer.
The Doxology.
The Twenty-third Psalm.
The Gloria.
Hymn of the New Jerusalem.
Members of the Sunday school assisted by the choir.
Prayer.
Hymn.
Ministration of baptism.
Scripture lesson, John 5:1-14.
Sermon, "The Boy Who Did Something," John 6:9.
The Ten Commandments.
The Beatitudes.
Presentation of Bibles.

Free Church.

A large and appreciative congregation was present at the Free church on Sunday and the exercises were finely carried out. Special music was rendered by the choir and eleven children were baptised.

The examination of the graduating class plainly showed that diligent work had been done by the teachers to accomplish the fine results, as was shown by the recitation of several passages of scripture.

A book was presented to Kenneth Lyall Scott by the pastor for having read the New Testament through during the past year, and Bibles were given several children who were baptised seven years ago on Children's Sunday.

At the close of Sunday school potted plants were distributed to the children.

Baptist Church.

At the Baptist church a program, issued by the American Baptist Publication Society, was used and a missionary offering was taken. The concert was at 7 o'clock and Perley F. Gilbert, superintendent of the Sunday school, had charge. The church was decorated with wild flowers by members of the Sunday school and looked very pretty.

The concert was furnished by the children, who sang and gave recitations. At the morning service the pastor, Rev. Mr. Belknap, gave a special sermon to the children, illustrating it by the process of photography. The children of the primary department and the Junior Y. P. S. C. E. rendered several selections.

"An Irish May Day" Repeated.

The juvenile operetta, "An Irish May Day," was repeated by the members of St. Augustine's Sunday school in the Town hall last evening. The hall was crowded with an appreciative audience and the applause was generous. About 60 children were in the cast, the girls being prettily dressed in white with green sashes. Crowns of flowers were worn by some of the girls. The boys were all clothed in black suits.

The chorus added much to the success of the play, rendering several beautiful selections. The winding of the May pole was a very pretty scene and was done nicely by the children. Miss Mary Qualey took the part of Bridget very cleverly and Miss Edith Higgins made an attractive Mrs. Carew.

Strawberries and cream were distributed to the audience and tonic and ice cream were sold. Dancing followed until nearly midnight, music being furnished by Curran's orchestra of Lawrence. The affair was given under the personal management of Rev. Fr. McGowan, assisted by Miss Annie G. Donovan.

Decision Reserved.

At a civil session of court held in Lawrence on Wednesday the case of Frank A. McManus of this town against Richard J. Sherry and Charles Perry of Ballardvale was heard. The suit was to recover $200.

Mr. McManus who is employed by J. P. Wakefield, lost a roll of bills containing $45, while on the team last winter and he claimed that Sherry gained possession of it, but did not make any return, hence the suit.

Louis Cox appeared for the defence and Daniel J. Murphy for the plaintiff. The decision was reserved.

ANDOVER MAN HONORED

The following is clipped from the India Rubber World, and is a tribute to one of Andover's most respected citizens that will be appreciated as worthily bestowed. There is little that is new in it to Townsman readers, but it is a new setting for one of Andover's leading business men which shows that Mr. Flint's influence and ability reach far beyond the local activities where he has been so successful.

"The new president of the New England Rubber club, Mr. John H. Flint, in addition to being a wealthy and able rubber manufacturer, is in everything a typical New Englander. As treasurer of the Tyer Rubber Co., most of his time is spent in the old college town of Andover, where the company's works are situated. To be sure, like other Massachusetts business men, he is in love with the 'North Shore,' where he has a fine summer cottage, and where he is able to indulge his passion for fishing. But for eight months of the year one is sure to find him in the town of his birth, where he takes an active interest in all that appertains to its welfare or to that of the company of which he is treasurer. He has been in turn town treasurer, chairman of the board of selectmen, chairman of the public works board, and is today president of the Andover Savings Bank, one of the strongest institutions in the state of Massachusetts, as well as director in various banks and other financial institutions. Personally Mr. Flint is one of the most unassuming men in the world. Absolutely without pretense of any kind, sincere, straightforward, a firm friend, very much of a philosopher, with a goodly share of humor, he is very popular wherever he is known. For a New England club no better head could be chosen than this same sane, shrewd New England Yankee."

Wedding.

CATE—FARNHAM.

A quiet and pretty wedding was solemnized at 3.30 on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Moses L. Farnham on High street, when his youngest daughter, Miss Ida, was united in marriage to John Almon Cate of Concord, N. H.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. F. R. Shipman in the parlor which was beautifully decorated with potted plants and out flowers. The bride and groom stood beneath an arch of daisies and greenery while the knot was tied, the single ring service being used, the bride being given away by her father. They were unattended. Miss Ruth Farnham of Hookset, N. H., a cousin of the bride, was flower girl.

Mendelssohn's wedding march was played by Miss Margaret Rogers as the bridal party entered and retired from the room.

An informal reception was held after the ceremony when many friends and relatives extended well wishes to the happy couple. Refreshments were served by Caterer Rhodes.

Mr. and Mrs. Cate left Andover on the 5.55 train for a brief wedding tour and they will be at home after July 1st at 23 Allison street, Concord, N. H., where Mr. Cate is employed in the repair shop of the Boston & Maine railroad.

Relatives and friends were present from Manchester, N. H., Hookset, N. H., Lynn and Salem.

Miss Annie Simmons of Yonkers, N. York, is spending a few days with Dr. and Mrs. Hiland F. Holt on Elm street.

At a meeting of the trustees of Dunbar Academy held at Newburyport on Monday, James Hardy Ropes of Cambridge, formerly of this town was elected president. Mr. Ropes is the son of Wm. L. Ropes, librarian at the Theological Seminary.

Abbot Academy.

The reception and dance given in Davis hall last Tuesday evening was a most successful event, if one may judge by the enthusiastic comments heard on every hand. It was a pretty sight to look upon and its like we hope to see again. While the classes of 1905 and 1906 were the only ones invited to the reception, the on-lookers, from their vantage point in the organ loft, rejoiced in the scene below them, and in the hope of joys to come.

No tickets and no special invitations will be sent out this year to the Draper Reading, Saturday evening, at 7.30 o'clock, or to the musicale on Monday evening. Davis hall being large enough, it is expected, to hold all who are interested to come.

The handsome new stage curtain bought with the proceeds of an amateur dramatic representation of "A Scrap of Paper," and some other sums, was in place last Tuesday evening and the comfortable new seats, the gift of George G. Davis of North Andover, are also now in Davis hall, ready for Saturday evening.

It is a satisfaction to have both for the baccalaureate sermon and the anniversary address men whom Andover knows and honors. Prof. George F. Moore, D. D., is to preach the baccalaureate sermon, and Prof. James Hardy Ropes will deliver the address Tuesday morning.

A HOT fire, but—A cool kitchen!

Is there no heat with a gas stove?

Of course there's heat—the very best and most effective kind.

It's heat that heats the food, and not the whole house.

It is not fickle heat. You can depend on it absolutely. You can have several degrees of heat (for several kinds of cooking) at the same time.

Each flame is as steady as clockwork.

You can time your cooking in advance if you have a gas stove.

And the instant your cooking is done you can put the fire entirely out.

ANDOVER DEFEATS EXETER.

Splendid Finish for the Baseball Season at Phillips.

Phillips Andover defeated Phillips Exeter 6 to 4 in the annual championship contest played at Exeter Saturday afternoon in a game which kept up the enthusiasm of the supporters of the two teams from start to finish. The result was in doubt until the last man was retired in the ninth inning and while Andover was leading and had apparently clinched the game in the eighth inning a batting rally by Exeter in the ninth would have soon turned the tide, so close was the score. The tension was over when Merritt struck out Flock and the members of the victorious Andover nine were borne from the field on the shoulders of their overjoyed schoolmates.

The teams were nervous and neither played the fielding game of which it is capable, but the game was hard fought and interest never waned. There was plenty of opportunity for the spectators to enthuse and they lost none of the opportunities.

Exeter's Andrew Jones' battery did not prove invincible as was predicted. On the other hand the two famous brothers were largely responsible for Exeter's defeat, the pitcher by losing his control so that he had to be taken from the box and the catcher by dropping a fourth fly in the eighth when he had a chance to retire Andover without a run. His failure to catch the ball gave Mallory a chance to make his memorable drive for three bases which brought in a run and enabled him to score also on a fielding error a moment later.

Capt. Clough had much to do with Andover's victory. While he did not figure conspicuously in batting and fielding his coolness and his steadiness did much to encourage his team when things looked darkest. He made a brilliant catch of foul fly which went into the first base bleachers.

Relly, who was elected captain of the team for next season, played a splendid game at second, his batting and fielding being as strong as ever.

Lanigan pitched well and his two hits were one of the features of the contest. He held Exeter down to two hits in six innings and then Merritt was sent in to relieve him. Merritt was very effective and Exeter was unable to score again.

Williams did not play as well as usual at third but he contributed one run to Andover and made a timely error in Cooney's foul fly in the fifth at a time when an error would have been serious.

Mallory showed up strong at short-stop and his three-bagger was the hit that practically won the game.

Schindler dropped an easy fly early in the game but did well after that and his throw to the plate in the sixth was perfect. The ball was in well ahead of the runner and Exeter would have been shut out with one run instead of three in that inning had Jones held the base.

Payette contributed a run. He had no chances in the field and failed to figure in batting. By hard sprinting he got a life at first in the first inning and had a chance to score later.

Taylor accepted his only chance in right field and made a timely error. Jones caught a good game but his one error was costly. He landed one hit.

REILLY ELECTED CAPTAIN.

The election of Bernard Eugene Relly, '06, as captain of the Phillips Andover academy baseball team for next season, is very generally approved. Relly is a remarkably clever ball player and is one of the most popular students at Andover.

He came to Andover from the Brockton High school two years ago and had no difficulty in making the nine last season. During the preliminary games last year he was seriously handicapped by an injury to his knee and it was not until the Andover game that he got into form. He played brilliantly in that contest.

This year he has done all round good work throughout the season and his two hits in the Exeter game Saturday resulted in two runs being scored, the margin by which Andover won the game. Relly is tied with Clough in batting for the season and is well up in the list in fielding.

Miss Amy L. Stork was elected assistant director of physical training. Miss Stork is a graduate of the Boston School of Gymnastics, and will devote one day a week to the work here.

Was Mildly Insane.

Chief of Police Frye was accosted by a woman on North Main street on Wednesday afternoon, who acted in rather a peculiar manner. She said that she wanted to give him a million dollars.

She was clad in a dark suit, such as is worn by some of the inmates of the State institutions, and the first thing that occurred to him was that the woman was insane. He told her that he would not take the money on the street, and asked her to go to his office. She went to the office and there she was taken by one of the men to the Town Farm. On Thursday morning Chief Frye took her to Lawrence, where she lives.

QUEER LOT OF NAMES.

Miss Death was brought to the German Hospital in Philadelphia to be operated upon for appendicitis. She was a daughter, she said, of an undertaker. The name of the surgeon who was chosen to perform the operation was Dye—Dr. Frank Hackett Dye.

When the operation was over Miss Death was placed in charge of two nurses.

Miss Payne is the day nurse, Miss Grone is the night nurse. The patient recovered rapidly, and in a short time bade good-bye to Dr. Dye, Miss Payne and Miss Grone.

Fourth of July Committees Meet.

The meeting of the committees on the Fourth of July celebration was held in the lower Town hall on Monday evening with chairman William Crowley presiding. George A. Higgins was chosen secretary.

The reports of the various committees were read and showed that an earnest endeavor was being made by all to have a Fourth such as never was seen in Andover before.

The committee on badges reported that one member had declined to serve and George L. Averill, Jules Duval and Daniel Hilton were appointed to that committee. William A. Allen of that committee stated that he would give a pound box of candy to the boy and girl who shall sell the largest number of tickets; also a fine pipe to the man who sells the most.

The committee on horrors reported great progress and F. H. Hardy, Charles McDermitt and Arthur Jackson were added to that committee.

The baseball committee presented a favorable report and the arrangements are well under way.

It was voted to hire the Andover Brass Band for two concerts, one in the afternoon and one in the evening. It was also voted to have a display of fireworks in the evening and a sum of money was appropriated for each feature.

It was voted to leave the matter of a subscription paper entirely with the committee on prizes and badges and in all probability one will be circulated.

Adjournment was made until this evening when the committees will again meet in the lower hall.

There will be five prizes of $1 each and five of 50 cents each, the contest being open to all the children of Andover.

New Trustee For Phillips

Henry L. Stimson, a prominent New York lawyer, has been elected a member of the board of trustees of Phillips Andover academy.

He was graduated from the academy in the class of 1884 and has been a most loyal alumnus. While at Andover he took a prominent place in student councils and was a member of P. A. E. secret society. From Andover he went to Yale, graduating in 1888. He is a member of several prominent New York clubs. He was appointed to succeed the late Dr. W. H. Wilcox of Malden.

The resignation of Thomas H. Russell of Boston as a trustee because of advancing age has been accepted, and his successor will be elected soon. Mr. Russell was the oldest trustee of the academy, having been elected in 1874. The academy will receive $5000 from the estate of the late Robert C. Winthrop of Boston.

Exeter Wins at Tennis

The annual Andover-Exeter tennis tournament was played at Exeter Wednesday afternoon, Exeter winning both singles and doubles. Exeter's representatives were Wolff '05 in singles, and Tuohy '06 and Hall '07 in doubles. Loomis '05 appeared for Andover in the singles, and Loomis and Shannon '07 in the doubles.

In the singles Wolff beat Loomis, 6-4, 6-4, 4-6, 7-5.

The doubles at the start strongly indicated an Andover victory. Tuohy and Hall then made a fine rally, defeating Loomis and Shannon, 4-6, 0-6, 6-2, 6-2, 6-3.

WARREN F. DRAPER.

The Andover Theological Seminary Necrology has the following interesting reference to the late Warren F. Draper:

Oldest of seven children of Martin Draper (died forty-four years deacon of the church at Dedham, Mass.) and Sally Fisher; born at Dedham, Mass., December 12, 1818; united with the church at Dedham, December 27, 1840; attended college at Phillips academy, 1836-43; was graduated from Amherst college, 1847, after taking the full course; taught at Holliston, Medford, and Canton, Mass., winters; entered this seminary in the autumn of 1847, but was obliged to leave in a few weeks because of ill health.

In April, 1849, he became a bookseller at Andover, Mass., and was soon a publisher as well as a business continued until his death. In 1850 he became the publisher of The Bibliotheca Sacra, which he issued until 1884. In addition to the hundreds of valuable volumes from the pens of others that came from his press two were prepared by him, the "Index to the Bibliotheca Sacra," Volumes I.—XXX., Andover, 1874, xiv, 280 pp., pronounced by Dr. Ezra Abbot the best index ever published; and the semi-centennial "Catalogue of the Officers and Pupils of Abbot Academy," Andover, 1879, 127 pp.

In 1855 he went to London, representing the publisher of "Uncle Tom's Cabin," returning the next year.

He was a trustee of Abbot academy from 1868 and its treasurer from 1876 to 1901. His gifts to the academy amount to about $75,000, and he gave to Phillips academy and the town also, celebrating his last birthday by a gift for school purposes.

He married, May 24, 1848, in Philadelphia, Penn., Irene Patience Rowley, daughter of Reuben Rowley and Irene Guernsey, of Lansing, N. Y., and a graduate of Abbot academy, 1845. She survives him. They had no children.

Mr. Draper died at Andover, Mass., of cerebral hemorrhage, January 8, 1905, aged eighty-six years and twenty-seven days.

SOCIOLOGICAL

Carnegie's Money Tainted.

The board of trustees of the University of Mississippi has decided to reject the offer of Andrew Carnegie to furnish $25,000 toward the erection of a library. Governor Vardaman of Mississippi, who was a member of the board, said: "I would rather see the walls of the state university and our colleges crumble into dust and the buildings be battered and grimy than that they should be built up and handsomely painted and furnished by this money, which has been coined from the blood and tears of the toiling masses, demanding the usury of self respect, which we cannot afford to pay."

Governor Vardaman.

The Education of Convicts.

The New York state prison authorities have decided that the education of the prisoners in state institutions shall be turned over to the department of education, the prison schools being under the supervision of the prison chaplain, with convict teachers as far as possible. It is intended to make the attendance in the prison schools compulsory for those convicts who are notably illiterate.

EXECUTIVE

Increase in Money Stock.

Ellis H. Roberts, treasurer of the United States, in an address at Topeka, Kan., said the grand total of money in circulation in this country had advanced within five years from $2,000,000,000 to $2,578,000,000, or at the rate of over $103,000,000 a year. Thus the per capita ratio has been carried up from $26.58 to $31.05. In this great increase the most significant feature is the addition of $63,500,000 a year to our gold stock. Mr. Roberts said that notwithstanding the existing deficit the government could go on paying every obligation without stringency for two or three years.

Postal Employees Warned.

The postoffice department has issued a formal warning to all employees that associations for political purposes, with a view to securing privileges at the hands of congress, will not be tolerated. Attention is called to the recent address of Postmaster General Cortelyou, when he said that organizations must have for their object improvements in the service or must be purely fraternal.

A 900,000 Acre Preserve.

A new forest preserve, to be known as the Lassen Peak, covering part of the northern Sierra Nevada range in California, containing 900,000 acres, has been set aside by order of President Roosevelt. About 84 per cent of its area is forest with 3,250,000,000 feet of merchantable timber. About 125,000 sheep and 10,000 cattle have been grazed annually over this area, and they will be allowed to continue there.

Bates to Head Army.

The war department issued orders June 6 relieving Major General Bates from duty in command of the northern military division and directing him to report to the department at Washington. This was ordered in spite of the expected retirement of Major General Greene and other members of the staff. Bates will be assigned to duty as assistant chief of staff. He will retire Aug. 16.

INDUSTRIAL

World Agricultural Institute.

Delegates to the international agricultural conference at Rome signed an agreement on June 7 for the establishment of an international agricultural institute with headquarters in the Italian capital. There are to be representatives from each country, having a number of votes according to the amount contributed for the support of the institute. The representatives of the powers are to form an assembly, and this in turn will elect a president. The work of the institute will be to study and publish statistics concerning the cultivation of animal and vegetable products, the commerce in agricultural produce, the prices prevailing in different markets, the wages of agricultural laborers, agricultural diseases and their remedies, questions concerning co-operation, insurance and credit and also seek the approbation of the governments interested for a measure of protection of the common interests of agriculturists and the betterment of their condition.

A Railroad Speed War.

A speed war between the New York Central and Pennsylvania railroads which was begun a week or two ago when the Central announced a nine hour train service between New York and Chicago, has already resulted in a new record for that distance. Preparatory to putting on, after June 11, an eighteen hour train between New York and Chicago the Pennsylvania on June 5 broke all records by making the run in sixteen hours three minutes. This was done by having two special trains, one from New York to Pittsburgh in eight hours fifty minutes and the other from Pittsburgh to Chicago in seven hours thirteen minutes. The advertisement of this new Pennsylvania service describes it as "the fastest long distance train in the world." It is to leave Twenty-third street, New York, at 8.55 p. m., and reach Chicago at 8.55 a. m., thus permitting "a business day in either city." The Central is 978 miles and the Pennsylvania is 890. In order to make the trip in seventeen hours the Central train would have to run at the rate of seventy-five miles an hour, not counting stops, and the actual running time would have to be sixty-seven miles an hour. The Central officials have decided to cut the time of the Twentieth Century Limited from twenty hours to eighteen hours after June 18.

Coal Found in Panama.

Yardmaster F. A. Chubb of the Panama canal commission has brought to Washington samples of an immense coal deposit discovered in Panama. He says that the deposit is ten miles long, twenty-seven miles wide and of unknown depth. He believes the coal to be superior to Pennsylvania anthracite. If true, this will add vastly to the value of the canal zone as a coal station.

Beef Trust Puts Up Prices.

A general raise of a cent a pound for all meats has been ordered by the controlling powers in the meat business, and this is reflected in the retail market.

SCIENTIFIC

Half Million Volts Harmless.

Professor Elihu Thompson, the noted electrician, by means of an apparatus which he has designed, demonstrates that he can let 500,000 volts of electrical forces pass through his body without the slightest sign of physical discomfort or danger. There was a flash from his finger tips and great sparks flew into the air, lighting electrical lamps held two feet from his fingers.

Wireless on Moving Trains.

The Chicago and Alton railway announced at Chicago on June 8 that all arrangements had been made for the establishment of a wireless telegraph system on all trains running between Chicago and St. Louis, and that this would be extended gradually to the entire system. That wireless telegraphy could be so used was shown experimentally by sending messages from Chicago to the officers of the road traveling on a limited train running from St. Louis. While this train was running at fifty miles an hour messages were received from the general offices at Chicago and replies sent back. Thus the train dispatcher will be able to reach any train on any part of his division at any time. The trains running close together will be able to communicate with each other. Also messages for passengers will be handled commercially.

Fastest Growing Walnut Trees.

Luther Burbank, the wizard of plant life, has announced another achievement of vast commercial importance—namely, the crossing of different varieties of walnut trees so as to produce one that grows with great rapidity.

LABOR

Higher Wages For Pressmen.

The national board of arbitration has decided in favor of the New York Pressmen's union in a dispute involving wages. The pressmen hereafter are to receive a uniform scale of $5 a day for both day and night work, and assistants get 10 per cent increase. The vote of the Rev. Thomas R. Slicer, the third arbitrator, turned the scale in favor of the pressmen.

Citizens' Alliance Platform.

The new National Citizens' Industrial alliance, formed largely through the instrumentality of C. W. Post, the food manufacturer of Battle Creek, Mich., has elected Mr. Post president, and announces its objects as follows: "We are for no closed shops; no restriction as to the use of tools, machinery or material except such as are unsafe; no limitation of output; no restriction as to the number of apprentices and helpers when of proper age; up boycott; no sympathetic strike, and no sacrifice of independent workmen to the labor union, or compulsory use of the union label."

Oppose Rate Regulation.

The official Journal of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, in its May number, advises members of that union to actively oppose the passing of the Esch-Townsend bill for federal regulation of railroad rates on the ground that such legislation would probably result in a reduction of wages for railroad employees, or at least make it difficult to raise wages above present standards. "It is very difficult," says the Journal, "for a layman to see wherein the government can infringe at will upon the liberty of contract of railroads in the interest of the shipper, when there can be no legal restrictions placed on bake shops in the interest of the journeyman baker or the public."

LEGAL-CRIMINAL

Remarkable Blackmail Case.

John J. Tonkin, a wealthy oil man of Oswego, N. Y., has continued to receive letters threatening to kidnap his twelve-year-old daughter and has offered a reward of $50,000 for the detection of the writers. The letters have been mailed from different places.

Gaynor and Greene Lose.

By decree of Judge La Fontaine, the extradition commissioner at Montreal, Canada, June 6, John F. Gaynor and Benjamin D. Greene were ordered to be sent back to Savannah, Ga., for trial on the charge of harbor improvement graft. They were remanded to prison to await the orders of the minister of justice for surrender to the American authorities. Nevertheless the prisoners immediately began proceedings to be brought before the court of king's bench under a writ of habeas corpus.

The Mortgage Tax Law.

Governor Higgins of New York has signed the substitute mortgage tax bill which exempts the taxation of mortgages of $3,000 or less on residence property held by the building and loan associations. The new law establishes a tax of 5 mills on the dollar of the amount of the principal debt of all real property mortgages recorded in New York state beginning July 1, 1905. This tax is in lieu of all other taxation upon said mortgages.

Systematic Trolley Grafting.

General Superintendent Stanley of the Public Service Corporation of New Jersey has unearthed a plot in which many employees and regular patrons of the road, including school children, have taken part to cheat by the fraudulent use of transfer tickets. In this way the corporation is said to have been swindled out of $150,000. In some cases punched transfers have been turned in by conductors as if they had been used, and in others the punches have been loaned to certain persons to fix the transfers so that they could be used at any time of the day.

Mrs. Rogers Must Hang.

The United States supreme court denied June 9 an application for a writ of error in the case of Mrs. Rogers, convicted of murder in Vermont, whose execution has been delayed on one plea or another for many months.

Chair For Lawyer Patrick.

Albert T. Patrick, the New York lawyer who was convicted of the murder of William Marsh Rice, an aged millionaire, in New York on Sept. 23, 1900, will in all probability suffer the extreme penalty for his crime, the New York court of appeals having decided against him by a vote of 4 to 3.

EDUCATIONAL

A College For Dramatists.

The faculty of Harvard university has added to its curriculum a course in playwriting. It will consist of a course of lectures designed to reveal the practical theories of dramatic construction as shown in the works of the greatest playwrights.

Catholic University O. K.

During the closing exercises of the Catholic University of America at Washington on June 7 Rector O'Connell read a statement showing that the university possesses resources valued at $1,381,000 untouched by the financial collapse of Thomas F. Waggaman, its late treasurer. The bishops' collection ordered by the pope has brought in $113,550, and trustees have begun a contingent fund to be used until the full endowment is realized.

It Is "Dr. Cortelyou" Now.

The honorary degree of LL. D. was conferred upon

Postmaster General Cortelyou by the University of Illinois at its commencement exercises on June 7. Mr. Cortelyou delivered the address of the day on education and citizenship. He said that the demand of the hour was an unceasing warfare upon corruption in all its aspects and in preserving the purity of the home.

Educational Papers Combined.

The tendency toward commercial combinations has taken effect in the field of education, judging from the organization of the United Education company at New York, which takes over the various school publications hitherto published by E. L. Kellogg & Co. of New York and E. O. Vall of Chicago. The new company will continue to publish the School Journal on educational foundations as heretofore, but will combine the Teachers' Institute, Primary School, the Intelligence and Primary School Era into the Teachers' Magazine.

MISCELLANEOUS

Fortune to Ziegler Heir.

By the will of the late William Ziegler, filed June 5, the bulk of his vast fortune goes to his twelve-year-old adopted son, William Ziegler, Jr., a fortune estimated at more than $50,000,000. The boy will come into the possession of this vast sum at twenty-one. At that time his income is expected to be at least $1,000,000 a year. No mention is made of the polar expedition, but it is believed that the executors will carry out Mr. Ziegler's wishes.

Mrs. Roosevelt Buys Farm.

A summer home known as Springfield has been bought by the wife of President Roosevelt in Albemarle county, Va.

Accidents.

The British submarine boat A-3 was sunk at Davenport, England, on June 8 while undergoing practice. Only four of the crew of eighteen were saved. Explosions caused the boat to flip when the hatches were open. It is the third boat of this type lost by England.

Several persons were killed and much property destroyed by an electrical storm which passed over lower Michigan on June 5.

Nearly 500 Hindoo laborers were killed by a hurricane which swept over Natal last week.

Deaths.

General H. V. Boynton, the well known soldier and Washington correspondent, died at Atlantic City on June 3, aged seventy-eight.

Nervous Women

Their Sufferings Are Usually Due to Uterine Disorders Perhaps Unsuspected

A MEDICINE THAT CURES

Can we dispute the well-known fact that American women are nervous? How often do we hear the expression, "I am so nervous, it seems as if I should fly," or, "Don't speak to me." Little things annoy you and make you irritable; you can't sleep, you are unable to quietly and calmly perform your daily tasks or care for your children.

The relation of the nerves and generative organs in women is so close that nine-tenths of the nervous prostration, nervous debility, the blues, sleeplessness and nervous irritability arise from some derangement of the organism which makes her a woman. Fits of depression or restlessness and irritability. Spirits easily affected, so that one minute she laughs, the next minute weeps. Pain in the ovaries and between the shoulders. Loss of voice; nervous dyspepsia. A tendency to cry at the least provocation. All this points to nervous prostration.

Nothing will relieve this distressing condition and prevent months of prostration and suffering so surely as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mrs. M. E. Shotwell, of 103 Flatbush Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y., writes:

"I cannot express the wonderful relief I have experienced by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I suffered for a long time with nervous prostration, backache, headache, loss of appetite. I could not sleep and would walk the floor almost every night."

"I had three doctors and got no better, and life was a burden. I was advised to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it has worked wonders for me."

"I am a well woman, my nervousness is all gone and my friends say I look ten years younger."

Will not the volumes of letters from women made strong by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound convince all women of its virtues? Surely you cannot wish to remain sick and weak and discouraged, exhausted each day, when you can be as easily cured as other women.

CONSPIRACY CHARGED IN HAVERHILL BRIDGE CASE.

SALEM, June 14.—Another chapter in the famous Haverhill bridge controversy was enacted here Tuesday afternoon, when Chief Justice Aiken issued a restraining order to prevent the county commissioners from awarding any contracts for the proposed bridge and restraining David E. Robinson, county treasurer, in whose safe the plans and specifications for the bridge are at the present time, from allowing anyone to make use of the plans, or to see them, pending legal proceedings which come up for hearing Friday.

Mayor Roswell G. Wood of Haverhill came here and caused this action to be taken through City Solicitor Essex S. Abbott. Mayor Wood said he was induced to take this action because of circumstances which he claims he discovered here. He said: "I came down here to Salem with City Solicitor Abbott and Robert R. Evans, the city engineer of Haverhill. We came to see the plans and specifications, which our city engineer, Mr. Evans, was to make copies of."

"When we called on Mr. Bates, the county commissioner, and asked for the plans, he said he had not seen them since Friday. Commissioner Sawyer said the last he saw of the plans was on Saturday, when he saw J. R. Watt leaving the building with them in his possession, and he supposed Mr. Watt had the plans in his possession at the present time in New York. Mr. Watt is the man who drew the plans for the commissioners."

"I was surprised later," continued Mayor Wood, "when I found, in spite of what the commissioners had told me, that the plans and specifications were locked up in the safe of the county treasurer's office, and that the plans had been put there by Commissioner Elbridge C. Sawyer, with instructions that no one was to be permitted to see them without his order."

"It was after finding this state of affairs that I instructed City Solicitor Abbott to bring the court action against the county commissioners. Ten firms have submitted bids for the bridge. When the bids were opened Saturday it was found that the American bridge company of New York had made the lowest bid, $177,250. Then it was that H. G. Clepper of Naumuck, representing H. G. Clepper & Co. of Boston, offered to build a bridge for $140,000, and at the same time offered a certified check for $10,000 as an evidence of good faith on his part. The commissioners refused to consider this offer, and this resulted in Mayor Wood of Haverhill demanding that all bids should be rejected and new ones advertised for. This the commissioners refused to do."

Mayor Wood says the bid of $140,000 was made in good faith. He personally investigated it, and its acceptance would mean a saving of some $21,000 to the city of Haverhill. All of this comes on top of the heated controversy between Mayor Wood, the commissioners and representatives of the two lowest bidders, which was held in the North station in Boston Monday forenoon.

The order of injunction issued by Chief Justice Aiken is operative until Friday.

City Solicitor Abbott in his argument for a restraining order said that by an act of the legislature the county commissioners were authorized to build a bridge, the cost not to exceed $200,000; that conspiring to prevent an honest competition, and with a design to give the contract to the American bridge company of New York at a price grossly in excess of the fair competition for the work, the commissioners employed the United Construction company, a closely allied corporation to the American Bridge company, to draw plans and specifications; that about 10 days ago they advertised for bids but furnished no plans and specifications as is customary; that bidders did not allow sufficient time for bidders to obtain information and did not publish the advertisement in such papers and with such circulation as is customary.

As a condition precedent to bidding the commissioners required that a certified check for $10,000 should be filed 24 hours before the time of opening the bids, in consequence of which the American bridge company learned the names of the other bidders and conspired with them to pool their issues to secure a price much in excess of the fair value. As before the opening of the bids other contractors had opened for further time for the rejection of all bids and one firm claiming a right to bid had offered to do the work for $140,000, which was $37,250 less than the lowest bid and a certified check of $10,000 at that time. The county commissioners refused to allow to consider the bid and announced their intention of awarding the contract to the American bridge company.

On the city of Haverhill notifying the commissioners that they protested against such action being taken, they were given an advance in the presence of the mayor that no action would be taken until after a hearing to be given on or after June 15, that all bids would be rejected and new bids asked for. Tuesday morning to their surprise they learned that the plans and specifications had been removed from the office of the county commissioners and deposited with the county treasurer or his assistant and they had been refused permission to inspect them. The chairman of the board denied that the plans were the property of the county commissioners and said they had been given to the city of Haverhill by James R. Watt, president of the United construction company, which as a matter of fact, he, the speaker, Mayor Wood and an assistant clerk of the court had seen them in the office of the county treasurer.

He further said Mayor Wood had learned that the county commissioners had employed counsel and made a proposition that they would not reject all bids, but would meet Saturday morning to consider the matter of awarding the contract to the lowest bidder complying with the plans and specifications shown by an affidavit worded notice, which the speaker presented to the court. Upon learning these facts the petitioners had become alarmed and drawn this bill which they presented to the court.

Chief Justice Aiken inquired if there was any danger of the county commissioners taking action before Thursday forenoon. City Solicitor Abbott answered that in case the commissioners secured the least information of the injunction proceedings the contract with the American bridge company would be made at once.

The chief justice replied it was only a question with him whether he should grant a restraining order, or the injunction as prayed for, on Mr. Abbott stating that the order would be sufficient, the court directed the order to issue, to continue in effect until Friday at 9.30 a. m., and in the meantime the papers to remain in the custody of the party who now has them.

During the informal discussion of the affair Mr. Abbott started to tell the court that the county commissioners of Essex county were under fire. Chief Justice Aiken remarked that he could not stop to discuss the political affairs of the county.

LAWRENCE

COUNTRY CLUB "FO" INCLUDED A "HOP."

The "Poo" concert held at the Country club Wednesday evening beginning at 7.30 o'clock was the largest and most prominent organization. Weather conditions were ideal for an outdoor affair. Although the evening was warm there was a delightful breeze. The Columbian orchestra with Reinhardt Knuefer in charge furnished an excellent concert until 9.30 o'clock.

The guests were seated at tables arranged within an enclosure of bunting in the national colors at the south of the club house on the gently sloping lawn. The menu was the usual one incident to such an event and the waiters who were prominent club men, were as prompt and efficient as professionals. A most enjoyable feature of the event was the vaudeville program provided by the members of Joseph J. Flynn's companies. About 40 of the leading members from six companies had been selected and a most interesting and varied group of musical features were listened to by an appreciative audience.

The program was brought to a close by a chorus of 40 voices in the "Toreador" song from Carmen.

The program follows:

Song, "My Irish Molly O," Charles Saxon

Sketch, "Sergeant Hickey," John and George Gorman

Song, "Dear Old Girl," Al. Cameron

Song, "Love Song," Fletcher Norton

Selection, "El Balco," Miss Helen Darling

Duet, "Nobody Like You," Miss Mable Scott, Herbert Carter

Selection, Electric Comedy Four

Thomas Merrick, Carl Gath, Thomas McKenna, George W. Kerr

Selection, Symphony Quartet

Joseph Conway, Otto and Henry

Parie and George Donaldson

Toreador song.

Frank D. Nelson and chorus

All of the numbers were well given and the listeners were favored with several of the very latest pieces that have been rehearsed during the last few weeks and have not as yet been presented to the public.

A. E. Mack, chairman of the house committee, as general chairman and he was assisted by the following committee of ladies: Mrs. W. D. Twiss, chairman; Mrs. Joseph C. Brown, Mrs. E. K. Winslow, Mrs. H. B. Musk, Mrs. George B. Sargent, Mrs. W. E. Gale, Mrs. M. A. Mills and Miss Annie Shattuck. The aforementioned ladies are members of the house committee and they had the following assistants in arranging the event:

Mrs. John P. Sweeney, Mrs. V. J. Hubo, Mrs. Joseph J. Flynn, Mrs. Louis Cox, Mrs. Eben Grimes, Mrs. Walter Coulson, Mrs. Hugo Bell, Miss Agnes Stuart, Mrs. Kendall S. Norwood, Mrs. W. W. Gowing, Mrs. Thomas Sullivan.

The following gentlemen assisted as waiters: R. Suttart, head waiter; Louis Cox, Thomas Sullivan, M. F. Sullivan, Dr. George B. Sargent, Albert S. Schaeke, Norman Lyon, Paul Clay, Thorndike Howe, Arthur Sweeney, and Robert Morris.

Japanese lanterns and the national colors in flags and bunting were used to advantage everywhere inside and outside the club house and about the grounds. Much credit is due to Mr. Leonard Benink to whom so much of the decorative effect is due. They were secured through the kindness of Reid & Hughes and the following committee had charge of the arrangement: Chairman, L. E. Bennink, Arthur Dyer, W. S. Oswald, Walter Rowe, Joseph Brown, Major Steadman, E. N. Winslow, Louis D. Norton.

Dancing to the music of the Columbian orchestra was enjoyed in the club house until a late hour. The paper was given by Mr. Mayo of the Merrimack Paper Co.

WISHART WON MEDAL PLAY.

At the Merrimack Valley club, Mr. Wishart won the handicap medal play with a net score of 76. Arthur Sweeney was the next highest with 78.

SUED BY HIS DOCTOR.

"A doctor here has sued me for $12.50, which I claimed was excessive for a case of cholera morbus," says R. White, of Coacohella, Cal. "At the trial he praised his medical skill and medicine. I asked him if it was not Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy he used, and he would not say under oath that it was not." No doctor could use a better remedy than this in a case of cholera morbus, it never fails. Sold by all druggists Lawrence, W. A. Allen, Andover, and C. H. Shattuck, Ballardvale.
